

BANFF NEAR DAY

Posted on 2017-12-11 2019-12-16 by spd_wp_admin

Dear Reader,

Here is the next series of photos from our recent visit to Banff. The first 3 are from the shores of Two Jack Lake. The 4th photo was taken from the edge of the Bow River down the street from where we were staying, the ever so reliable Banff Park Lodge.

Well! I had looked these over a bit earlier today, but then the sunrise dragged me outside by the yarbles, and I HAD to photo it. Not sure how they turned out yet. Came back and embiggened them to contemplate over coffee and breakfast. The first is well composed, but somehow doesn't do anything for me. However, the other three are a treat for the leisurely eye.
