

OUT TO LUNCH

Posted on 2020-01-27 by spd_wp_admin

Dear Reader (2020-01-27),

At long last here is the last of the posts initially introduced in the Foggy Experiment. Last December I went for a wander to capture photo murals in the East Village near the now renovated Simmons mattress building. The original images were part of the project Bridge by local artist Katie Green in collaboration with others including Chelsea Call. I had nothing to do with the project, and I believe in giving credit where its due.

Thank you Katie and Chelsea – nicely done!

After I captured these images, lunch was a delicious slice of focaccia from one of the restaurants in the Simmons building.

Cheers, Sean
